FACTSHEET | 2020 | Q4

INVESTMENT APPROACH

ARGI's Tactical Portfolio is established on modern portfolio theory that is modified to adjust weightings based on macro-economic trends and artificial intelligence at the Tactical Committee's discretion.

The strategy seeks to optimize asset class weightings close to the longer-term efficient frontier while making human decisions to potentially achieve an enhanced risk-adjusted return around the targeted risk level. Significant deviations from the targeted risk profile are not intended. The strategy also utilizes an artificial intelligence methodology as a percentage of the portfolio. AI's objective is to attempt to outperform the S&P 500 while diversifying the portfolio.

Target Asset Breakdown by Profile

*Target asset allocation is as of most recent quarter and may vary from above weightings intra-quarter due to IC discretion, market movement, or individual client circumstances.

Performance results are presented in U.S. dollars and could include reinvestment of dividends. Portfolio performance is calculated and derived from our internal proprietary systems. No current or prospective client should assume future performance of any specific investment strategy will be profitable or equal to past performance levels.

All investment strategies have the potential for profit or loss. Changes in investment strategies, contributions or withdrawals may cause the performance results of your portfolio to differ materially from the reported composite performance. Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk, and there can be no assurance that any specific investment will either be suitable or profitable for a client's investment portfolio.

Diversification and asset allocation help you spread risk throughout your portfolio, so investments that do poorly may be balanced by others that do relatively better. Neither diversification nor asset allocation can ensure a profit or protect against a loss.

AIS portfolio risk categories range from a 6 to a 1 with a Profile 6 being most aggressive and risky and a Profile 1 being the most conservative and risk averse. It is AIS' intention to manage portfolios to risk just as much as return while taking clients' risk objectives and goals into consideration.

Economic factors, market conditions, and investment strategies will affect the performance of any portfolio and there are no assurances that it will match or outperform any particular benchmark. ARGI Investment Services (AIS) is registered as an investment advisor with the United States

This has since been fixed going forward but you should not be utilizing any Q4 2019 Tactical factsheets. Performance reporting for your individual portfolio remains correct as this only affected our factsheets.
